

PROPERTY TAX APPEAL BOARD'S DECISION

APPELLANT: Joseph Bercik
DOCKET NO.: 03-25385.001-R-1
PARCEL NO.: 29-29-408-037-0000

The parties of record before the Property Tax Appeal Board are Joseph Bercik, the appellant, by attorney Rusty A. Payton of the Law Offices of Rusty A. Payton, P.C., Chicago, Illinois; and the Cook County Board of Review.

The subject property is a ten-year old, one-story frame dwelling containing 2,443 square feet of living area with a full, unfinished basement and a two-car garage.

The appellant submitted evidence before the Property Tax Appeal Board claiming unequal treatment in the assessment process as the basis of the appeal. In support of the equity argument, the appellant submitted a grid analysis detailing four suggested comparable properties. On the appellant's map, the location of the subject property was not indicated, and only one of the comparables was actually plotted on the map. Their permanent parcel index numbers indicate that they are all in the same general area. The comparables are one-story or one and one-half story frame dwellings that are 29 to 89 years old. One comparable has an unfinished basement, and three do not have a basement. Information on garages was not disclosed. The dwellings have living areas that range in size from 1,864 to 2,428 square feet, and their improvement assessments range from $3.28 to $3.88 per square foot. The subject property has an improvement assessment of $5.41 per square foot. Based on this evidence, the appellant requested a reduction in the subject's improvement assessment.

The board of review submitted its "Board of Review Notes on Appeal" wherein the subject's assessment was disclosed. In support of the subject's assessment, the board of review offered property characteristic sheets and a spreadsheet detailing four Based on the facts and exhibits presented, the Property Tax Appeal Board hereby finds no change in the assessment of the property as established by the Cook County Board of Review is warranted. The correct assessed valuation of the property is:

suggested comparable properties that are located one to three blocks from the subject. The comparables are one-story masonry dwellings that are 24 to 84 years old. One comparable has a full, unfinished basement, and three do not have basements. Three comparables have central air conditioning, and one has a fireplace. Two comparables have two-car garages. The dwellings have living areas that range in size from 1,113 to 1,150 square feet, and their improvement assessments range from $5.26 to $7.14 per square foot. Based on this evidence, the board of review requested confirmation of the subject's assessment.

After reviewing the record and considering the evidence, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds that it has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of this appeal. The Property Tax Appeal Board further finds that a reduction in the subject's assessment is not warranted. The appellant's argument was unequal treatment in the assessment process. The Illinois Supreme Court has held that taxpayers who object to an assessment on the basis of lack of uniformity bear the burden of proving the disparity of assessment valuations by clear and convincing evidence. Kankakee County Board of Review v. Property Tax Appeal Board, 131 Ill.2d 1 (1989). The evidence must demonstrate a consistent pattern of assessment inequities within the assessment jurisdiction. After an analysis of the assessment data, the Board finds the appellant has not overcome this burden.

Both parties presented assessment data on a total of eight equity comparables. The appellant's comparables differed substantially from the subject in age, and comparables two, three, and four also differed in foundation. The board of review's comparables differed from the subject in age, size, and exterior construction, and comparables two, three, and four also differed in foundation. As a result, none of the comparables was truly similar to the subject property in physical characteristics to provide clear and convincing evidence that the property was inequitably assessed. However, the Board notes that all comparables had improvement assessments ranging from $3.28 to $7.14 per square foot. The subject's $5.41 per square foot improvement assessment is within that range and appears to be supported after considering differences in physical and location attributes.

As a result of this analysis, the Property Tax Appeal Board finds the appellant has not adequately demonstrated that the subject dwelling was inequitably assessed by clear and convincing evidence, and a reduction is not warranted.

This is a final administrative decision of the Property Tax Appeal Board are subject to review in the Circuit Court or Appellate Court under the provisions of the Administrative Review Law (735 ILCS 5/3-101 et seq.) and section 16-195 of the Property Tax Code.
